Hospital Readmission and Costs - Salisbury Hospital, United Kingdom. Readmission to hospital is one of the most serious problems facing UK hospitals. The aim of this retrospective study was to identify the causes of readmissions and to consider what factors can be improved to reduce readmissions. Data was collected for each patient that was readmitted between the 1st of April and the 1st of May, 2013. The readmitted patients were matched with those that had been discharged on the same day in order to avoid bias. One hundred and twenty patients were readmitted and matched with 120 patients that were discharged on the same day. The main reason for readmission was respiratory illness in 65%, followed by non-cardiovascular causes. Lactate was found to be a useful marker to determine if a patient had most likely suffered a cardiorespiratory arrest. This retrospective study has identified the main reasons for readmission as being respiratory, highlighting the importance of providing appropriate resuscitation training. We recommend that lactate should be measured immediately following an arrest, as this may be useful in calculating treatment priorities.

Kopernikus Kopernikus (,) is a village in the administrative district of Gmina Korycin, within Sokółka County, Podlaskie Voivodeship, in north-eastern Poland, close to the border with Belarus. What's New in the Adobe Photoshop 2021 (Version 22.4.2)?

Action: Status: In the 39th meeting of the Member States of the European Union's General Affairs Council (GAERC) on 28 June 2011, the member states gave a positive response to the European Commission's initiative to launch negotiations on a global agreement to prevent the trade in antiquities and cultural property. The member states welcomed the European Commission's pledge to "act now and build a global consensus on a multilateral instrument to combat the illegal trade in cultural property". The member states welcomed the European Commission's proposal for a multilateral framework to fight illicit trade in cultural property and encouraged the European Commission to continue its efforts to build an inter-institutional, cross-border, and cross-disciplinary effort at ensuring the effective implementation of the Treaty on the Protection of Cultural Property in the Event of Armed Conflict (TPCP). In addition, the GAERC requested that the European Commission report back to the GAERC on the progress of the negotiations and the work needed to develop an international agreement. The European Commission should: Continue its efforts to build an inter-institutional, cross-border, and cross-disciplinary effort to ensure effective implementation of the TPCP. Act now and build a global consensus on a multilateral instrument to combat the illegal trade in cultural property. Support the development of a working group to analyse the situation of cultural property in armed conflict. Support the development of an international legal instrument on cultural property in the event of armed conflict. Replace the term "municipal and State-owned cultural property" by "antiquities, cultural property of outstanding universal value and heritage of humanity" for the purposes of the TPCP. Support the adoption of an internationally recognised definition of the illicit trade in cultural property. Provide for the collection of specific information about the illicit trade in cultural property, in particular from the media, museums, libraries, auction houses, archives, law enforcement, customs, customs agents and other public authorities.

19.4.13 Birger V Dear my friends in The Netherlands (and in your country) who don't know Birger V., there are plenty of singers and bands in Sweden who don't know Birger V, but since most of them will probably never go to London I can't blame them. Birger V. is an important hip hop/folk/pop/jazz artist from a small southern Swedish town who plays a pair of plasticized
