

For a more in-depth mission play through, you can choose to write your own Stories – previously, only historical Missions were available. The pack provides a total of 112 new Missions: of historical or religious date – including missions regarding to the character’s specific European, African or Maritime religion –, and focuses on the expansion of the northwestern neighbor and ancient ally of the Americas, Mesoamerica. Players can choose their individual religious approach to the world, and change the religion of their nations at any time. As a result of such an activity, the nation gets access to the new religious characteristics (effect), and many of these change the religion’s network in their provinces. You can also choose whether you want to make your nation Catholic, Jewish or Orthodox, or just focus on using your religion to change provinces. In addition, the pack features five new Non-European mission timings, and a new Missionary model to help the player achieve lasting economic control over further areas of their empire. The pack also adds new hand painted assets to further increase the immersion and realism of the game, and provides a total of 13 new iconic(ized) province names. Play Video Features: Missions: The pack features 112 new Missions, mostly focusing on expansion, but also contains missions regarding to the character’s specific European, African or Maritime religion. New Missionary Models: Players can choose between two new Missionary models to display them in game. Expanded Religion Network: The Religion network now has 3 more pre-defined network positions that can trigger additional cultural groups that slowly convert all provinces to the new religion. New Church Asset: The pack features a new Missionary model for a Church. New General-Military Unit: The pack features a new General-Military unit, also using the iconized West African themed attire and musical theme, and a new card to be added to the General’s hand. New Merchant Asset: The pack features a new Merchant, also using the iconized West African themed attire and musical theme. New Emperor’s Avatar: The pack features a unique Emperor’s Avatar, also using the iconized West African themed attire and musical theme. New Royal Court Mission: This Mission is meant to give the player and their allied nations a further boost for the campaign. New Audio: The pack features additional musical themes for the major and minor missions. New Subtitle: The pack features additional subtitle options for the main and
