Former Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton is expected to call out GOP nominee Donald Trump at an event in New York City Friday morning, according to a report. Clinton, her former presidential campaign manager Robby Mook and Democratic strategist David Brock are scheduled to host a town hall meeting at the Cooper Union for the Sciences in New York City at 10:30 am ET. Former Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton on Tuesday announced her campaign for the 2018 election, but her rival Hillary Clinton has already dismissed the former secretary of state as a “robot” and a “puppet” of the Democratic Party. Clinton was first elected to the U.S. Senate in 2000 after her husband, Bill Clinton, left office. After falling short of the presidency in 2016, the 2016 Democratic nominee is bringing her rise in politics to New York City for a previously scheduled speaking engagement. For the past several months, Trump has been selling a different political message as the Nov. 8 election approaches. The Republican nominee has been campaigning heavily on illegal immigration and benefits for the U.S. military, but Clinton is calling on voters to reject the divisive rhetoric of the presumptive Republican nominee. “Donald Trump should withdraw,” Clinton said in a video address to the American people. “He should ask to be removed from the ballot in every state. But so far he has only withdrawn from the election in a couple states.” “He is the most dishonest person ever to run for the office of the president of the United States of America. I’m proud to call him a friend, but I am astonished at his unapologetic advocacy and promotion of this hateful and extremist vision for America,” Clinton said. Roy Cooper are drafting a deal to provide some form of protections for the state’s controversial transgender restrooms and locker rooms for K-12 schools after protesters sparked weeks of clashes and damage at universities and government buildings. The current proposal is expected to include a compromise that would allow transgender students to use

As we start to gear up for next year’s college football bowl season and the start of the 2017 NFL season, you might be interested to know that you can still make the perfect day for football on the last Sunday in October. Coinciding with the last Sunday of the regular football season, the NFL is hosting the Hall of Fame Game, an annual contest between the Tennessee Titans and the Baltimore Ravens. The Falcons-Giants game on Sunday is shaping up to be a classic. But you don’t need to watch that one to watch the Hall of Fame game. The NFL is hosting it again this year, and it is a great way to end the season with a bang. The game will be played on Sunday, October 26. The NFL releases the game information on Wednesday, so you can expect the start of the game around 7:00 pm ET, unless otherwise noted. The Hall of Fame Game always has a great crowd; the 32 fans that make the trip to Canton to see the unveiling of the Hall of Fame’s busts, however, get to stay and watch the game with the rest of the Atlanta fans. The Hall of Fame game is a great opportunity for Atlanta fans to attend a game in person instead of watching it on television. If you’re looking for a new one of a kind experience during the NFL season, the Hall of Fame game is a perfect chance. Tickets for this game are averaging $275. If you don’t have tickets yet, there will be special spots available, so they may not sell out the way they did for the Falcons-Giants game earlier this season. This year, the Hall of Fame Game will be held at the Canton “Horseshoe,” as opposed to the Falcons’ home stadium. The competition between the two will certainly not be boring. A crowd of 32,000 in Canton is a big deal, so this game is bound to be a fun one. Fans will get to see some truly great plays throughout the game, so if you’re not a fan of any of the teams, you might be surprised by the style of play. The Atlanta Falcons will be playing for the win, having already clinched their playoff spot. But the Ravens have already lost to the Titans in the regular season. You can bet that they don’t want to lose to the Falcons the way they did in
