Regarding the change, the Drink N Nitro Lattes will be replaced with the self-stable Nitro Draft Lattes. Several different milks are used in the drinks to enhance different flavors. We're excited to hear your feedback and look forward to seeing what you think of the new latte! The new self-stable Nitro Draft Lattes are available in four flavors: Black 'White, XX Espresso, Salted Caramel, and Mocha, and are made with allergen-friendly, gluten-free Oatmilk. It is non-GMO, kosher and vegan and is free of nuts, allergens, soy, gluten, carrageenan, BPA, dairy and preservatives. While best served cold, it does not need to be refrigerated until opened just crack open, sip and enjoy. The new Nitro Pro version releases sometimes have a few weird names and the list includes Nitro Draft Lattes with Almondmilk and Coconut Cream, for example. I also think, in some cases, the releases have different rums which are translated to the version name. The newest releases are called Nitro Draft Lattes with Oatmilk. While I liked the non-dairy alternative for the other cold Brew varieties, I thought the old packaging was more interesting. Plus, one of the benefits of going with the reduced calory version is that it doesn't contain as much fat as the full-calorie versions. The new Nitro Draft Lattes with Oatmilk open with an audible whoosh, which means the specialized nitro widget has instantly released nitrogen into the coffee and frothed the creamy Oatmilk for a rich, delicious brew. As with all Califia Farms coffee, it is made with 100% premium Arabica Beans sourced via Direct Trade from partners in South and Central America and East Africa, with complete transparency across the entire blockchain-enabled supply chain. The premium beans are then roasted at the Califia Coffee
