Screenshots: How to download: Support information: Licensee: Support email: support@adblocklock.com Updates: Ticket Wizard comes in handy to anyone who needs to generate a printable and customizable template for tickets or similar graphics, such as gift cards, vouchers, boarding passes, stickers, labels, price tags, diplomas, and so on. With its help you can create custom copies of any of the aforementioned graphics, copies that have dynamic elements containing custom data. Import a PDF template to start Upon launch, you are greeted by the simple window of Ticket Wizard, which prompts you to load the PDF template to use. A few samples are available and it is recommended you start with those so as to understand how the application works. You can choose between various alternatives: a boarding pass, a stand-up comedy print, an event ticket and a gift voucher. While the sample projects already have data available, you can also import new data from a spreadsheet or a CSV file. While the left-side panel comprises the data you import, the middle panel is for previewing and the right-side panel includes the used font, the text size, whether it is bold, italic or underlined, as well as other text properties, such as the color, the dimensions, scale and rotation, the horizontal and the vertical alignment. Place dynamic data and save your design As you click on any of the elements in the left-side panel, the preview in the middle updates automatically. Moreover, any element from the left can be easily inserted into your design as a text or as a barcode, which, for your convenience, is automatically generated. What you actually do is place customizable dynamic data in your graphics, which automatically updates with the data in the linked spreadsheet. Once your design is complete, you can generate a PDF file to save the output 2edc1e01e8
